

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of NEW YORK

Fintech Advisory Group

Conference Call

April 8, 2020; 10.30am-12pm

Agenda

Theme: The impact of the Coronavirus pandemic in the Fintech ecosystem

- | | |
|---------|---|
| 10:30am | Welcome remarks, John C. Williams, President and CEO, New York Fed |
| 10:40am | Conference call protocols, Adrian Franco and Beth Caviness, Secretariat |
| 10:45am | Presentations on the impact of the Coronavirus pandemic in the Fintech ecosystem by Fintech Advisory Group members |
| | Discussion questions |
| | <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Has there been a significant increase in the demand for specific services and products in response to the Coronavirus pandemic? What emerging technologies have been / can be most useful in current times?2. How can new technologies be deployed and utilized to improve resilience of the economy / financial system under the Coronavirus pandemic and during future stress events?3. Are there any vulnerabilities / weaknesses in the Fintech ecosystem that the Federal Reserve should be aware of? Are there risks related to Fintech that we should be monitoring in the current situation?4. What long-term effects do you anticipate the Coronavirus pandemic will have on the Fintech industry? |
| 11:55am | Concluding remarks, John C. Williams, President and CEO, New York Fed |