

Community Advisory Group
Federal Reserve Bank of New York
Via Webex
September 29, 2021; 10:30am-12:30pm

AGENDA

---

- |                 |  |
|-----------------|--|
| 10:30 am        | Welcome Remarks, John C. Williams, President and CEO   |
|                 | Community Advisory Group Protocols, Carmi Recto, Co-Secretariat  |
| 10:35am-10:50am | New member introduction, Robin Leichenko, Co-Director, Rutgers Climate Institute   |
| 10:50am-10:55am | Member questions on national and regional economic conditions, CAG Secretariats  |
| 10:55am-11:40am | Roundtable Discussion on Supporting an Inclusive Recovery facilitated by David Erickson, Chair, Carmi Recto, Co-Secretariat, and Dyvonne Body, Co-Secretariat of Community Advisory Group. <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>a. Economic data suggests strong job gains, yet employers remain concerned about shortages in labor. What impact have these trends had on the clients/constituents you serve?</li><li>b. Nationally, fiscal and other pandemic-related measures to support households impacted by the pandemic have been waning (e.g. expiring federal unemployment assistance and federal eviction moratorium). What impact has this trend had on the clients/constituents you serve?</li><li>c. What are local programs, practices, or policies that have helped your clients/constituents recover from the pandemic? How has the Delta variant or other local challenges served as a barrier to recovery?</li></ol> |
| 11:40am-12:25pm | Fed Listens, Jack Gutt, Head of Communications and Outreach Group <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>a. How are businesses and households/communities responding to the higher prices of some items, such as gasoline and groceries?</li><li>b. Do you see areas where the economic recovery has been uneven? What risks do these disparities pose for our economic performance?</li><li>c. How has the pandemic changed how and where people live and work? What changes are likely to be permanent? Is working together in the office and in multistory office buildings a thing of the past?</li></ol>   |

- d. In what ways will individuals and businesses need to adjust to the new normal?
- e. How do you assess the level of confidence in the business or community you represent? How has this level of confidence changed since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic?

12:25pm-12:30pm

Concluding Remarks, John C. Williams, President and CEO