iv. Consumer Confidence: Is the Council seeing signs of improved consumer confidence? What is the outlook for consumer credit losses?

3. Faster Payments: At the April 2019 meeting, Council members noted that the Federal Reserve should take a proactive approach towards innovation in the payment and settlement arena to ensure a level playing field for community banks. In August, the Federal Reserve announced that it would build a new payment and settlement service for 24x7x365 real-time payments, called the FedNow Service. The new service will support banks’ provision of around-the-clock, real-time payments (that is, “faster” payments) to their customers. Consistent with current Reserve Bank services, the FedNow Service will be available to banks eligible to hold accounts at the Reserve Banks. Participating banks will be able to designate a service provider or agent to submit or receive payment instructions on their behalf. Participating banks will also be able to settle payments in the account of a correspondent bank, if they choose to do so.

What actions do Council members believe that community banks will need to take to accommodate real-time payment processing on a 24x7x365 basis within the next few years? To what extent have community banks begun to make this transition from an operational standpoint? What actions can the Federal Reserve take to assist community banks in preparation for adopting the FedNow Service? What features of the new service will be most important for community banks?

4. Examination Practices: Have Council members experienced problems with recent examinations? In particular, have examination practices constrained access to credit by creditworthy borrowers? What steps can be taken to address the Council’s concerns?

5. Regulatory Matters and the Future of Banking: How are recent changes in the regulatory landscape affecting the ability of community depository institutions to continue providing services to their customers? What has been the effect on the industry generally?

6. Additional Matters: Have any other matters affecting community depository institutions emerged from meetings of the Reserve Banks’ advisory councils that Council members want to present at this time?
