2021

Online Central Banker Programs

Calendar & Program Descriptions
As we continue to adapt to the evolving COVID-19 operating environment, all of the New York Fed’s international seminars and training programs will be offered online in 2021. In the future when it is safe to meet in-person again, we plan to combine these new online offerings with our longstanding on-site programs in New York. Whether online or in-person, our program goals remain the same. We seek to provide global central bankers and financial supervisors with the latest information about a range of technical and policy-related topics and create a community where colleagues can discuss and share best practices that will help to strengthen our collective capacity.

The 2021 online programs include some of our core in-person offerings which have been translated into online formats as well as new programs this year. In particular, we would like to highlight:

- FX Reserve Portfolio Management (Offered jointly with the Bank for International Settlements), which is designed to focus on developments in dollar asset markets in which central bank reserve managers are most active

- Supervision Summer Series (Offered jointly with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System), which includes individual sessions on Bank Analysis and Examinations, Risk Management and Internal Controls, Consolidated Supervision, and Dealing with Problem Banks

- Central Bank Compliance, which is designed to help central bank compliance officers to better identify, address, and mitigate compliance risk within their institutions

Please take a look at the information in this brochure as well as on our website, nyfed.org/internationaltraining. We encourage you to review the programs and join one! We will be adding more online offerings throughout 2021 so check back to see what’s new as the year develops. We look forward to seeing you online.
