

Agenda

Tuesday, July 2, 2013

Breakfast & Opening

8:30am-9:30am

1st floor, Liberty Room

9 am

Welcome to the New York Fed

Linda Goldberg, Research, New York Fed

1st floor, Liberty Room

9:15 am

Why study math and economics

Jane Katz, Economic Education, New York Fed

1st floor, Liberty Room

Morning Sessions

9:30am-12:00pm

3 Rotating Morning Sessions (9:30–10:15, 10:20–11:05, 11:10–11:55)

Econ mini-seminar: Two hypotheses about family decision-making

Brandi Coates, Research, New York Fed

1st floor, Room 143

Trading game: How prices are set

Morgan Williams, City University of New York

1st floor, Liberty Room (back section)

Young economist panel

Maxton Allen, Morehouse College

Olga Rodriguez, Columbia University

Christian Jauregui, Research, New York Fed

Caitlin Gorback, Research, New York Fed

Moderator: Adrian Franco, Economic Education, New York Fed

1st floor, Liberty Conference Room

Lunch

12 pm-1pm

Lunchtime conversation with economists and New York Fed leaders

1st floor, Liberty Room

Agenda

Tuesday, July 2, 2013

Afternoon sessions

1 pm-3pm

2 Rotating Afternoon Sessions (1:00–1:55, 2:00–2:55)

Econ mini-seminar: Making strategic decisions using game theory

Michael Gedal, Regional and Community Outreach, New York Fed
1st floor, Liberty Room (back section)

The policy responsibilities of the Federal Reserve with visit to the gold vault

Elizabeth Antonious, Economic Education, New York Fed
Gracie Rios Morales, Economic Education, New York Fed
1st floor, Museum

Learning about MathxEconomics

2 pm-3pm

A feedback and discussion session for friends of the program

Jane Katz, Economic Education, New York Fed
1st floor, Liberty Conference Room

Panel discussion: Careers in Economics

3 pm

Panel discussion: Careers in economics

Mark Lopez, Pew Hispanic Center
Iris Mack, Consultant, Phat Math Inc.
William Rodgers, Rutgers University
Moderator: Jane Katz, Economic Education, New York Fed
12th floor, Conference Room

Meet the New York Fed Staff (networking activity)

4 pm

Welcome remarks by Diane Ashley, Office of Diversity and Inclusion, New York Fed
Sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Inclusion
1st floor, Liberty Room

5 pm

Adjourn