Overview of TIC System

Treasury International Capital (TIC)

- The reporting system collects data for the United States on cross-border portfolio investment flows and positions between U.S. and foreign residents.
  - U.S. Balance of Payments Accounts
  - U.S. International Investment Position
  - Formulation of International Monetary and Financial Policy
  - Track developments in International Markets

Overview of TIC System

- U.S Treasury retains administrative control/oversight of TIC system.
- Federal Reserve Board has oversight.
- Cross-border transaction and holdings not captured by the TIC reports.
  - Direct investments
  - U.S Government cross-border capital transactions
- Additional information about the TIC System, reporting guidance, FAQs are available on the Treasury TIC website
Data Review

All submission are reviewed by analysts in the Federal Reserve System.

- Ensure data quality
- Analyze trends among reporters
- Summarize aggregate market trends
  - Monitor cross border capital flows

Analysis and Questions

- Focus on period over period change, but with understanding of longer historical trends.
Data Review

Analysis and Questions
- Requires detailed variance information on counterparty sector information as well as instrument type.
  - Specify counterparty, hedge fund, broker dealer, insurance company, banks, central banks, non-financial corporations,
  - Type of deposit, time deposit or demand deposit
  - Considerable size and scope within short time frame.
- Reporters must provide response in a timely manner.

TIC System Overview

- What is the TIC data system?
  - Comprehensive effort to collect cross-border financial data
  - Cross-border
    - U.S. liabilities (U.S. financial assets held by foreigners)
    - U.S. claims (foreign assets held by U.S. residents)
  - Financial
    - Bank and nonbank loans, deposits, and other
    - Derivatives positions and transactions
  - Securities (bonds and stock) positions and transactions
How are TIC Data Used?

- Published monthly / quarterly / annually on Treasury’s TIC website
- Important inputs to
  - BEA’s balance of payments (BOP) and international investment position (IIP)
  - Federal Reserve Board’s Flow of Funds (Z.1)
  - IMF’s Coordinated Portfolio Investment Survey
- Data are watched closely by market and policy analysts

Examples: TIC in the news

Reuters, July 18

UPDATE 1-Japan purchases U.S. Treasuries again in May

* China's U.S. bond holdings rise in line with currency reserves
* Foreigners buy most Treasuries in nearly two years (Recasts, adds details on latest data)

July 18 (Reuters) - Japan resumed purchases of U.S. Treasuries in May, retaining its status as United States' largest creditor, while China raised its stakes in U.S. government debt for a fourth straight month. U.S. Treasury Department data showed on Tuesday.

Japan's holding of Treasuries grew to $1.111 trillion in May from $1.107 trillion in April. In March, Japan's holdings totaled $1.121 trillion.

China's stake in U.S. government securities increased to $1.102 trillion, the second most behind Japan, from $1.092 trillion in April.

China's higher Treasuries holdings was in step with its rising foreign exchange reserves in the wake of tighter capital controls and a weaker dollar.

Overall, foreign investors bought $46.37 billion in Treasuries, which was the most since June 2015 when they bought $72.01 billion. In April, they sold $22.53 billion in U.S. government debt.

Meanwhile, foreign private investors and government authorities bought the most long-term U.S. securities in 10 months in May as the Dow Jones Industrials and S&P 500 posted gains and benchmark Treasury yields fell for a second straight month.

Offshore investors purchased $91.9 billion in long-term U.S. assets in May, more than the revised $9.7 billion they bought the previous month. May's amount was the highest since the $95.1 billion they bought in July 2016.

They were net buyers of U.S. assets with the inclusion of shorter-dated securities, totaling $57.3 billion in May, less than the revised $74.4 billion in April. (Reporting by Richard Leong; Editing by Meredith Mazzilli and Leslie Adler)
Publication by BEA for Official International Transactions Accounts

- Quarterly Balance of Payments (BOP) statistics
  - Current account: broadest measure of cross-border transactions: trade flows plus transfers and remittances, and investment income
    - TIC data used for estimates of fees and commissions on cross-border securities transactions
    - Interest and dividend payments on foreign holdings of US assets and interest and dividend receipts on US holdings of foreign assets
  - Financial Account
    - Financial flows that provide financing of the current account
  - Quarterly International Investment Position (IIP)—used to be only annual
    - How large is stock of US holdings of foreign assets relative to foreign holdings of US assets?

US International Investment Position (IIP)

- Categories are
  - DI (blue)-from BEA
  - Portfolio investment (green): TIC securities and banking data
  - Derivatives (yellow): TIC
  - Other and reserve assets: Various sources

- Net IIP (black line)
  - Net IIP is negative: US liabilities (below Y axis) exceed US assets
  - In other words, rest of world is lending to US
  - This gap narrowed a bit after the 2008 crisis but is now widening again
Question from TIC and Related Data:
Is Current Account and NIIP Deficit Sustainable?

- Interest rates have started to rise
- Stock of debt owed to foreigners is large enough to generate growing net interest payments on debt securities.
- Liabilities to foreigners will grow as a share of GDP (unsustainable in the long run) unless dollar depreciates
- But how and when the balance changes will depend in part on the composition of U.S. claims on and liabilities to foreigners.
Example: Who Holds Treasuries, and Implications for Treasury Yields as Fed Normalizes

- During “quantitative easing”, Fed bought Treasuries
  - Treasury purchases lowered supply, so increased price, which lowers rates
  - Foreign investors’ holdings and purchases were also strong, amplifying the effect

- Foreign holdings of Treasuries are about $6 trillion, or a little less than half of the stock of marketable Treasury debt outstanding (about $14 trillion)

- China and Japan are the largest foreign holders, with just over $1 trillion each

Looking Forward

- If foreign investors move away from Treasuries as the Fed is raising rates and [possibly] reducing its portfolio, rates could rise faster

- Policymakers watch the TIC data, as well as market movements, to gauge impact
Another Use of TIC Data: Federal Reserve Flow of Funds Accounts (Z.1)

- Flow of Funds gives comprehensive accounting of
  - Quarterly financial asset and liability positions
  - Quarterly changes in positions (flows)
  - For sectors of the U.S. economy to measure financial “wealth” of the United States

- Balance of Payments and International Investment position data are source of Flow of Funds “Rest of the World” sector.

Flow of Funds Accounts (cont’d)

- Flow of Funds wealth of the U.S. household sector is derived by residual:
  - For example, Flow of Funds has measure of total U.S. Stock market capitalization
  - Minus estimate of U.S. stocks held by U.S. financial and nonfinancial corporations
  - Minus U.S. stocks held by foreigners (based on annual survey of foreign holdings US securities + monthly estimates based on TIC S & SLT)
    - = U.S. stocks held by U.S. households
  - + estimate of portion of foreign stocks held by U.S. households (annual claims survey and monthly estimates based on TIC S & SLT)
    - = U.S. household wealth in the form of stocks
Flow of Funds Accounts (cont’d)

- U.S. household wealth is an important determinant of U.S. household spending
  - Some estimates suggest that $1 increase in financial wealth leads to roughly $.06 increase in spending
  - Aggregated over all U.S. households: has significant effect on U.S. GDP

- Getting accurate measure of U.S. household wealth and components of household wealth is important for outlook for U.S. consumer spending
  - Depends on getting accurate measure of ROW wealth

Use of TIC Data in Board’s International Finance Division

- Current Analysis: Events of past few years: how can monthly TIC data and annual surveys help us understand current global financial issues?

- Also for longer-term analysis: what are emerging trends in cross-border financial flows and investor portfolios?
Example of Analysis: Developments in Emerging Market Economies and Investor Responses to Low Interest Rates

- How exposed are U.S. investors to EMEs? How have they responded to recent turbulence in EME financial markets?
- What’s keeping Treasury yields so low? Are Chinese purchases of Treasuries helping hold down yields?
- Are there implications for demand for U.S. securities, U.S. asset prices and interest rates, and the value of the dollar?
- What are the implications for foreign growth and activity? Are there potential spill-overs for U.S. economic activity?
- Recent FOMC statements explicitly mentioned this factor.
- Are there concerns for financial stability?

Concluding Comments

- Data collected in the TIC reporting system is used for range of official publication uses
- Wealth of detail in the data is strongly valued by senior staff in the International Finance division for the ability to analyze important questions about the current economic and financial situation
- Care and effort taken by reporters to ensure the data are accurate is highly valued and much appreciated!
- TIC data releases and reports can be seen at https://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/data-chart-center/tic/Pages/index.aspx

Affiliates

- A foreign-resident affiliate is:
  - Any foreign-resident entity for which the reporter owns 10 percent or more of its voting equity (or the equivalent);
  - Any foreign-resident “parent” company which owns 10 percent or more of the reporter’s voting equity (or the equivalent);
  - Any foreign-resident company which is a subsidiary (50 percent or more owned) of a foreign parent company of the reporter.

Direct Investments

- Direct Investment Transactions and Positions excluded from the TIC System and reported to the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA).
  - A resident of one country obtains a degree of influence over the management of a business enterprise in another country.
  - Ownership of at least 10% of the voting securities of an incorporated business enterprise or the equivalent interest in an unincorporated business enterprise (Affiliate).
  - Transactions and positions can be in the form of equity or debt between affiliated entities.
Direct Investments

Exceptions: Non-Direct Investments reported on TIC B

- Debt between selected affiliated financial intermediaries
  - Deposit-taking corporations
  - Securities broker and dealers
  - BHC and FHC
  - Investment Funds
  - Other Financial Intermediaries
    - Except: Insurance companies and pension funds. Their debt positions with their affiliated entities are part of direct investment and reported to BEA.

Direct Investments

Exceptions: Non-Direct Investments reported on TIC B (continued)

- Equity in and debt with certain private funds
  - Investments by U.S. entities of a 10% or more voting interest in a foreign private fund, and investments by foreign entities of a 10% or more voting interest in a U.S. domiciled private fund, if meet two criteria:
    - The private fund does not own, directly or indirectly through another business enterprise, an “operating company” — i.e., a business enterprise that is not a private fund or a holding company — in which the U.S. or foreign parent owns at least 10 percent of the voting interest
    - If the private fund is owned indirectly (through one or more other business enterprises), there are no “operating companies” between the U.S. or foreign parent and the indirectly-owned private fund.
Own Foreign Offices

- All Reporters (excluding insurance companies and pension funds):
  - Banking and non-banking foreign offices of the reporter.
  - Foreign offices indirectly owned through a U.S. Subsidiary depository or non-depository financial institution.
  - Direct Foreign Parent.
  - Direct Foreign Parent’s non-U.S. branches and agencies.

- Exclude:
  - Foreign offices of the Parent’s banking and non-banking subsidiaries.

Purpose of the TIC D Form:

The purpose of the TIC D form is to gather timely and reliable information on the levels of and changes in U.S. international portfolio capital positions due to cross-border holdings of derivative contracts and the net settlement payments that arise from these contracts.
Purpose of the TIC D Form:

The information is used for the preparation of:

- U.S. Balance of Payments Accounts
- U.S. International Investment Position
- Formulation of U.S. international financial and monetary policies

Balance of Payments

- Transactions that generate a receipt of funds into the United States are recorded with a credit (positive) entry.
- Transactions that generate payments of funds to foreign residents are recorded as debit (negative) entries.

Overview Of TIC D Report
Who Must Report:
 All entities resident in the United States that have derivatives contracts that exceed the exemption level should complete all parts of the TIC D Form.

Exception Level, TIC D must be submitted if:
 The total notional value of worldwide holdings of derivatives (include contracts with U.S. and foreign residents, measured on a consolidated-worldwide accounting basis for the reporter’s own account exceeds $400 billion.

OR
 The amount reported by a TIC D reporter for Grand Total Net Settlements (Part 1, Column 3, Row 7) exceeds $400 million (either a positive or negative value).

Reporting Exemption Level Example:
Institution has $400 billion in notional amounts of derivatives in March, but its contracts fall below that afterwards.

 Once an institution meets the reporting threshold, it must continue to report for the rest of the same year and for the following calendar year.

TIC D reporter’s Grand Total Net Settlements (Part 1, Column 3, Row 7) exceeds $400 million (either a positive or negative value)

 The TIC D should be submitted for the following two calendar years, even if outstanding worldwide notional values fall below the $400 billion level.
Overview Of TIC D Report

What Should be Reported

- Contracts are reportable on the TIC D if it meets the three criteria of ASC 815 (Derivatives and Hedging) of a derivative contract.

1. One or more underlying and one or more notional value
2. Requires immaterial or no initial net investment
3. Requires or permits net settlement

Overview Of TIC D Report

Reportable Derivatives and Counterparty Location

- Positions should be reported for the country or geographical area in which the direct counterparty resides.

- Branches of U.S. residents located outside the United States are foreign residents. U.S. resident branches of foreign banks are U.S. residents.

- Do not report based on the currency denomination of the instrument, country of parent institution, country of issuance or the guarantor.

- The gross fair values and net settlement payments on the Grand Totals of Part I should be allocated on Part II according to the country of the direct counterparty.

- Contracts of your foreign-resident customers on U.S. exchanges should be reported opposite the country in which the foreign customer resides.

- In the cases of your and your U.S. customers’ contracts on foreign exchanges, report the country of the exchange as the country of the foreign counterparty.

- Do not combine, aggregate or net the fair value of a contract with the fair value of other derivatives.

- Only the contracts held on the books of U.S. offices and branches should be reported.
Overview Of TIC D Report

Consolidation Rules

- The top-tier U.S. entity should report the TIC Form D.
- U.S. resident subsidiaries should be consolidated on the same basis as annual reports and in accordance with GAAP.
- U.S. resident subsidiaries or branches of foreign entities who own more than one legal entity in the U.S. should report separately for each top-tier U.S. entity.

Reporting Derivative Contracts
Reporting Derivative Contracts

The report is separated into 3 types of information by column.

- Gross Positive Fair Value
- Gross Negative Fair Value

Fair Value

- Holdings of derivatives should be reported at fair (market) value.
- Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell the asset or paid to transfer the liability in an orderly transaction between market participants (not a forced liquidation or distressed sale) in the asset’s or liability’s principal.

Contracts are outstanding until:

- Terminated by acquisition or delivery of the underlying financial instruments
- Futures contracts, by offsets
- Standby contracts and other option arrangements, by expiring unexercised
Reporting Derivative Contracts

Net Settlements (Column 3)

- Include all cash receipts and payments made during the quarter for the acquisition, sale, or final closeout of derivatives.

- Do not report payments in the case of physical delivery when the underlying commodity or security is delivered.

Net Settlements (Column 3)

- Reportable - Future contract entered into for a foreign customer on US exchange or U.S. customer on foreign exchange

- All positions and net settlements should be reported from the perspective of the U.S. exchange. Thus, positions of your foreign customers on U.S. exchanges should be reported from the perspective of the U.S. exchange and not your foreign customer.
Reporting Derivative Contracts

Cash Receipts and Payments

- U.S. receipts of cash from foreign residents should be treated as a positive amount (+)
- U.S. payments of cash to foreign residents should be treated as a negative amount (-)

Examples:
- Cash settlement of a derivatives contract, such as a forward.
- Periodic payments under the terms of a contract, such as a swap agreement.
- Daily payments or receipts (variation margin) of an exchange-traded contract.
Common Reporting Errors

- Inconsistent definition of derivatives across reports.
- Including contracts that do not meet ASC 815 (Derivatives and Hedging) definition of derivatives
- Reporting derivative contracts with foreign central counterparties (CCP) as exchange traded (instead of OTC).
Common Reporting Errors

- Reporting positions and net settlements from the perspective of the foreign customer
  - Positions of your foreign customers on U.S. exchanges should be reported from the perspective of the U.S. exchange and not your foreign customer.

- Filing the TIC D through a lower tier U.S. entity. Only the top tier entity should file the TIC D form. However, foreign banking organizations that establish more than one legal entity in the U.S. should report for each top tier U.S. entity

TIC CQ-1: Report of Financial Liabilities to, and Financial Claims on, Unaffiliated Foreign Residents

TIC CQ-2: Report of Commercial Liabilities to, and Commercial Claims on, Unaffiliated Foreign Residents

Who Must Report

- Commercial and industrial firms
- Exporters, importers, trading companies, and foreign sales companies
- Holding companies (non TIC B filers)
- Subsidiaries of foreign organizations (non TIC B filers)
- Non-financial proprietorships, partnerships and limited liability companies
- Non-profit organizations, charitable organizations, and foundations
- State and local governments

(Unless subs of U.S. financial institutions and data already consolidated on the TIC B reports)
Consolidation rules

All U.S.-resident companies that are not 50 percent or more owned by another U.S. resident company should file combined TIC C reports for themselves and all of their U.S. resident subsidiaries that are:

- 50 percent or more owned (voting securities), or an equivalent interest (control)

- Are not depository institutions, securities brokers or dealers or other financial institutions (for which TIC B reports are filed)

A foreign-resident affiliate is:

- Any foreign-resident entity for which the reporter owns 10 percent or more of its voting equity (or the equivalent);
- Any foreign-resident “parent” company which owns 10 percent or more of the reporter’s voting equity (or the equivalent);
- Any foreign-resident company which is a subsidiary (50 percent or more owned) of a foreign parent company of the reporter

Note: All other foreign resident entities are “unaffiliated foreign residents”
TIC CQ Overview

Exception Levels

The TIC CQ-1 and CQ-2 forms have separate exemption levels for liabilities (Part 1) and for claims (Part 2).

Foreign Currency positions

For foreign currency-denominated positions reported on the TIC CQ-1 and CQ-2, report the U.S. dollar equivalent of the foreign currency amounts, converted by using the closing spot exchange rate on the as-of date of the report.

Foreign Currency Memorandum Rows

For each column, report the amounts of positions that are denominated in:

- Canadian Dollars (8500-1)
- Euros (8500-2)
- British Pounds Sterling (8500-3)
- Japanese Yen (8500-4)
- Swiss Francs (8500-5)
- All Other Foreign Currencies (8500-6)
TIC CQ Overview

- As-of date is last business day of the quarter
- Due date is 30 calendar days following the as-of date

Note: If the due date of a report falls on a weekend or holiday, the due date is the following business day

Common Reporting Errors

- Using trade date instead of settlement date
- Reporting foreign currency units instead of U.S. dollar equivalent

```
Reporting with Custodians

Example: A U.S. resident has a claim on a foreign resident in the form of a short-term security or a certificate of deposit

- Foreign custodian is used for a negotiable instrument

  U.S Person/investor (Claim) → Foreign custodian, debtor, or issuer
  Report on TIC CQ-1

- However, if a U.S. custodian is used for a negotiable instrument

  U.S Person/investor (Claim) → U.S. custodian, debtor, or issuer
  Reportable by the U.S. Custodian on TIC BQ

TIC CQ-2: Report of Commercial Liabilities to, and Commercial Claims on, Unaffiliated Foreign Residents
TIC CQ-2 Overview

TIC CQ-2 Report

- U.S. dollar and foreign currency-denominated commercial liabilities to, and claims on, unaffiliated foreign residents

Liabilities and claims between a purchaser and a seller of goods or services in the normal course of business (other than those arising from leases) are called “commercial” liabilities and claims and are reportable on the TIC CQ-2.

TIC CQ-2 Reportable Transactions

Reportable commercial liabilities to, and claims on, unaffiliated foreign residents include:

- Accounts payable and receivable
- Advance payments received for future deliveries of goods and services
- Claims on inventory held outside the United States
Additional commercial liabilities to, and claims on, unaffiliated foreign residents include:

- Credits due to or from a foreign resident
- Accrued liabilities and claims
- Fees due or payable

Specific Exclusions:

- Contingent liabilities or claims
- Liabilities and claims held for collection by U.S. banks or brokers/dealers
- Financial liabilities and claims
Trade Payables (Part I Liabilities, Column 1)

- Deferred payment for goods imported into the United States
- Acceptances made directly for your account
- The return of goods or cancellation of services
- Overpayments for goods or services
- Accrued liabilities for royalties and similar fees

TFC-1, TFC-2, and TFC-3 Reporting

- Overview of TFC Reporting
- TFC Reporting Forms
- Common Reporting Errors
Overview of TFC Reporting

TFC – Overview

TFC-1: Weekly Consolidated Foreign Currency Report of Major Market Participants

TFC-2: Monthly Consolidated Foreign Currency Report of Major Market Participants

TFC-3: Quarterly Consolidated Foreign Currency Report
What it captures:

- Consolidated data on the foreign exchange contracts and positions of major market participants
- Spot, forward, futures, swaps, options, and foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities
- Currencies: U.S. dollars, Euros, Swiss francs, U.K. pounds, Japanese yen, and Canadian dollars

Aggregate data published quarterly in the Treasury Bulletin

End users of TFC data include the Federal Reserve Board, the U.S. Department of the Treasury, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York
TFC – Who Must Report

- Banks, bank holding companies and depository institutions in the United States
- Agencies, branches, and subsidiaries of foreign banks located in the United States
- Intermediate holding companies (IHCs)
- Non-financial corporations and nonprofit institutions.
- Brokers, dealers, and mutual fund, foreign exchange, and hedge fund managers
- Other entities located in the United States, whether sole proprietorships, partnerships, groups, associations, syndicates, trusts, or corporations, including the U.S. subsidiaries of foreign nonbanking concerns

TFC – Consolidation

Domestic entities

- Reporters whose top-tier parent is located in the United States should include data for all domestic and foreign subsidiaries.

- Subsidiaries should be consolidated with the parent.

- Institutions may choose to report at the level of the bank unless the holding company's foreign currency commitments, including those of its subsidiary banks, exceed those of the bank or banks by more than 2%. If this is the case, the holding company must report.
Reporters with foreign parents

- U.S. branches and subsidiaries of foreign entities should file only for offices located in the United States, not for their foreign parents.

Partial consolidation option

- Amounts reported must reflect the operations of offices which are responsible for at least 90% of all foreign currency positions.
  - Domestic reporter: worldwide operations
  - Reporter with foreign parent: domestic operations

- The 90% equation: the sum of the absolute notional value of all foreign exchange spot and derivative contracts in its global foreign exchange operations.

Check one box:
- Fully consolidated: [ ] or Partially (per Section C.2 of General Instructions): [ ]
All foreign exchange contracts (purchased and sold), plus one half of the notional amount of foreign exchange options

All foreign currencies are included in the evaluation of the threshold

Last business day of any calendar quarter during the previous year calculated using prevailing exchange rates

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TFC-1 and TFC-2</th>
<th>TFC-3</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$50 billion equivalent in notional FX contracts</td>
<td>$5 billion equivalent in notional FX contracts</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Once the reporter has met the threshold to file, they continue to file through the calendar year, regardless of if they continue to meet the threshold

Example
Reporter meets threshold to file TFC-3 in June 2017, but is under the threshold for the rest of the year

Reporter would file starting in March 2018

Reporter is required to file the form until their foreign exchange contracts have remained below the threshold for a full calendar year
Due Dates:

- The TFC-1 report must be filed no later than noon (12:00 p.m.) on Friday following the Wednesday to which the report applies.

TFC – Submission

- All reports submitted to Federal Reserve Bank of New York, unless otherwise instructed
- File electronically through Reporting Central, or through fax, hand delivery, or mail
TFC – Reporting

- Two sides to every foreign exchange contract: the currency that is being purchased, and the currency that is being sold
- Both sides of the contract should be reported in their respective column/row on the TFC forms
- Reported on a gross basis
- Report notional amounts
- Report all positions in their original currency denomination

Example #1
A contract involving the purchase of Euros against the sale of UK pounds
- Report UK pounds side in column 4
- Report Euros side in column 2

Example #2
A contract involving the purchase of Euros against the sale of Mexican pesos
- Report Euros side in column 2
- Do not report Mexican pesos side

TFC-1 Form

Foreign Exchange Spot, Forward, and Futures Purchased and Sold (Lines 1 & 2)

- Notional amounts of foreign exchange that the reporter has contracted to receive, including unsettled contracts.
- Futures contracts liquidated through offset should be reported net.

Net Options Position Fair Value (Line 3)

- Only report if aggregate gross notional amount of options purchased and sold exceeds $500 million.
- Report long position as a positive number, and short position as a negative number.

TFC-1 Form

Reporting of swap contracts

- Report the notional amounts of swaps, including cross-currency interest rate swaps. Report the far leg and the near leg if it has not settled. Do not report the notional amount of swaps where there is not an exchange of principal.

- For swaps where the principal has been exchanged for the near leg but not the far leg, only the far leg should be reported.
Foreign Exchange Contracts Purchased and Sold (Lines 1 & 2)
- Notional amounts of foreign exchange that the reporter has contracted to receive, including unsettled contracts.
- Exclude futures contracts.
- Exclude swap contracts where there has been no exchange of principal.

Foreign Exchange Futures Purchased and Sold (Lines 3 & 4)
- Notional amount of all futures contracts.
- Futures contracts liquidated through offset should be reported net.

Fair Value Options Position (Line 5)
- Only report if aggregate gross notional amount of options purchased and sold exceeds $500 million.

Common Reporting Errors

- Not including all foreign currency contracts in the calculation of the threshold
- Reporting foreign exchange contract balances in USD equivalent, instead of the denominated currency
- Not following consolidation rules
- Including customer positions
TFC – Common Reporting Errors

- Not reporting in millions and whole numbers
- Reporting the Options Addendum when the threshold is not met
- Reporting positions on a net basis, instead of a gross basis
- Not reporting both sides of the transaction
