Downgrade Triggers in Master Agreements

Downgrade Triggers in Master Agreements is a recurring topic for the FMLG. This issue has been brought to the attention of the FMLG because the process of closing out FX positions when credit downgrade triggers in Master Agreements are breached can be costly and disruptive to the market. It is believed the market effects could be even more pronounced in the event of multiple simultaneous counterparty downgrades. The Credit Downgrade Triggers Working Group of the FMLG is evaluating a proposed solution to this problem – one that would standardize the close out mechanic upon counterparty downgrade, in an attempt to provide greater certainty and efficiency to the close out process.

The FMLG discussed the merits of the proposed solution, along with some concerns about the effect and implications of the proposal. While there was generally broad support for the goals of increasing the transparency of the close-out process and fostering systemic stability, it was acknowledged that implementation of the proposal could lead to some unintended consequences.

It was agreed that a list of concerns with the proposal would be drafted and circulated.

FX Clearing and Documentation

The group discussed the re-documentation that would be required in connection with Dodd-Frank-mandated clearing of certain FX products. Bob Klein and Chinedu Ezetah raised the possibility of the FMLG exploring a uniform approach to this process.

Electronic Confirmations

Electronic Confirmations is another recurring topic for the FMLG. With the goal of attaining a more efficient confirmation process, the FMLG has been examining the use of electronic confirmations generated by single-dealer or multi-dealer electronic platforms in the execution of FX transactions and is considering ways to promote the use of electronic confirmations. The group discussed next steps for this project.
Administrative Matters

The group approved Minutes from the February 2, 2012 meeting. A Steering Committee was created to identify Dodd-Frank-related FX issues that should be considered by the FMLG.

French Transaction Tax

Andrew Alter briefly described the contours of a financial transaction tax being proposed in France. (A similar tax is being considered in other European countries as well.) According to reports, the French Bill (the “Bill”) on the taxation of financial activities would tax purchases of shares that are admitted to trading on the Paris Stock Exchange and have been issued by a French-headquartered company with a minimum market capitalization of €1 billion as of January 1st of the taxation year. The Bill provides that the tax would apply to purchasers whether they are located in France or not, although exceptions are proposed for the initial issuance of securities, transactions carried out by clearing houses, market making trades, intragroup acquisitions and temporary disposals of securities. The Bill, which proposes an effective date of August 1, 2012, would also tax the notional amount of naked CDSs on sovereign bonds and high frequency trading in the same shares that are subject to the financial transaction tax and naked CDSs on sovereign bonds.
